About Arrivalist: Arrivalist is the leading location intelligence platform in the travel industry. We use mobile location datasets to provide actionable insights on consumer behavior, competitive share, media effectiveness, and market trends. Over 200 travel marketers, including more than 100 cities, over 35 US States, and 3 of the top 10 US Theme Parks, use these insights to inform media strategy, operations, and destination development. The common thread is that all our clients value unbiased intelligence from a company that is not trying to sell media or audiences, but instead provide actionable consumer insights
